PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The products covered by this Report are cord connected and used in Class I, Division 1, Group D. The units are used for the distillation of solvents.

The basic operation uses an electronic circuit board to control the temperature range of a heating element for the evaporation of solvents. A radiator with a ventilating system condenses the solvent which is recuperated in a liquid container. All line voltage items are contained within enclosures for hazardous locations.

MODEL SIMILARITY

Solvent Recovery Unit, Models are all basically the same in principle and design but differ in size, capacity.

Model No. R4 series is the basic model with a 2.5 US Gallon 1500W solvent container.

Model No. A22 series contains an integral R4 series unit sitting on a mobile stand containing a waste container.

Model No. 34, 23 series contain an integral R4 series unit attached to a parts wash station (30x42 inches for the 34 series or 26x36 inches for 23 series.)

Model No. 900 similar to R4 but has a 6.5 US Gallon solvent container.

Model No. 2000 similar to R4 but has a 20 US Gallon solvent container.

Model No. AC10 is identical to R4 unit.

Model No. CB70 is identical to CC70 but auto-repeat function is adjusted to single cycle.

Model COMBO456 is very similar with covered model COMBO455, the only difference is COMBO455 is combined with URS500, COMBO456 is combined with URS600.

COMBO605 is the same as covered model COMBO655 without hose cleaning feature

COMBO606 is the same as covered model COMBO656 without hose cleaning feature

The only other variations are indicated above in the product description
